In May 2003, Ms. Marrero obtained her Juris Doctor degree from the University of Puerto Rico School of Law, and was admitted to the Puerto Rico Bar in January 2004. After graduating from law school, she clerked two years for Honorable Pierre E. Vivoni del Valle, Judge of the Puerto Rico Court of Appeals. In 2006, she became a member of the Federal Bar for the District of Puerto Rico, and the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. That same year, Ms. Marrero began working at the Federal Public Defender's Office as the Research and Writing Specialist in the Appeals Division, and has been devoted to indigent defense ever since. After two and a half years, she became an Assistant Federal Public Defender handling federal criminal matters in both district and appellate court levels.
